Ms. Cleminshaw,

I advised you previously that I was unable to review the voluminous materials involved in responding to your subpoenas for a period of time because of my litigation schedule. You declined to agree to an extension. I completed a final draft of a petition for a writ of certiorari this morning and will have time to respond to you later today, but will have severe scheduling constraints thereafter. I will prepare a response to accommodate you while I attempt to arrange other representation for the individual and entity that were served. Upon preliminary review of the requests, I must say that I am astonished by their reach. You will receive objections later today by email.

Mr. McSweeney,

I write again with regard to the subpoenas served on Mr. Reagan George and his organization, Virginia Voters Alliance. These entities have failed to object to, obey or respond in any substantive form to Plaintiffs' subpoenas. And you have not responded at all to my email of 8 days ago. So while we would prefer to resolve compliance without the need for expensive court intervention, we cannot abide this continued noncompliance with the subpoenas. We will also follow up via telephone tomorrow.

Thanks,

Nicole
